Waveland leaders ok US-90 apartment plan

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Waveland Board of Aldermen Wednesday night followed the recommendation of the City Zoning and Planning Commission in accepting a preliminary plat for a $3 million apartment complex.

Lucien Gex, city attorney and judge, verbally blasted Delmar Wilcox, developer of the complex, for his criticism of the city's procedures in approving the project.

Wilcox complained project investors expended $60,000 in additional funds due to delays resulting from the necessary approval by the commission, aldermen and city engineers, and publication of legal notices announcing the intent of the developers.

Some 134 apartments are planned for construction beginning this week at a 44-acre, pecan grove at the intersection of US-90 and Waveland Avenue.

The development is named Century Subdivision.

Tennis courts and swimming pools are planned for the apartment complex, the developer said.

Wilcox suggested that the city's procedures should be changed so such developments could be approved in a matter of days rather than several months.

Mayor John Longo explained the procedural methods are designed to assist developers and protect citizens of the city.

"A good developer like yourself could be beat to death if the codes weren't strict," he said.

Gex stated the city's subdivision regulations, adopted in 1970, require legal advertisements and approval by appropriate city boards to prevent developers from building shacks.

"If we bend the rules for Wilcox, we'd have to bend them for someone else. I resent when you say we're obstructionists," the attorney tersely stated.

Longo, in an attempt to cool the discussion, said a recently approved animal shelter site received no objections because public hearings were advertised and conducted to air any grievances.

"If you hurry up with what you're doing behind closed doors, your development wouldn't get off the ground. And under the law you have to advertise," the mayor explained.

Wilcox stated, "There should be a different type of machinery to approve these things. I realize the legal requirements, but delays take a lot of time."

Gex hotly noted that Barbara Rapold, city clerk and an alderman, rushed legal advertisements to The Sea Coast Echo's Bay St. Louis offices and the preliminary plans to city engineers' offices in Gulfport.

"We went out of our way to expedite this and you accuse us of begin obstructionists?" he stated.

The developer acknowledged the city official acted in accordance with laws, but suggested that procedures be changed to assist businessmen involved in large projects.

Alderman Louis Smolensky said he felt the same regulations should apply to a developer who delays in advertising legal advertisements and approval by

We've got the smallest subdivision ordinance around here. If you go to Bay St. Louis you'll find the regulations are no simpler than ours. I don't know how you could have gotten this approved any quicker."

Longo agreed with Gex's statement and said, "To do this any quicker would open the door for a hodge-podge city."

The mayor noted hasty approval of a subdivision would lead to undesirable housing developments in the city.

Wilcox speculated if engineers had named the apartment complex something other than a subdivision, that he would not have had to comply with city laws regulating that type of endeavor.

But Longo noted when a parcel is divided at least once for sale or if a street traverses a section of property, the area is legally classified as a subdivision.

Wilcox also complained he encountered problems in complying with federal flood insurance regulations.

In other business at the 7:30 p.m. regular meeting at City Hall, the board:

—Accepted other recommendations by the commission which include approving Ray McIntyre's request for an R-2 zoning change and combine two lots in the Bay St. Louis Land and Improvement Co. area, a front yard variance for Mrs. R. J. Melancon Jr. at 139 Dane Road, a R-1 to R-3 zoning change requested by Ronnie Fletcher for several lots he owns in the subdivision.

—Approved a request by Dr. Thomas J. Waters on Blenville Drive, APARTMENTS—Page 8A

Allain opposing power rate hike

Attorney General Bill Allain reports he has intervened in the Mississippi Power Company rate increase hearing in behalf of the state and all other consumers of electricity. Allain said, "I do not believe the Mississippi Power Company is entitled to a 21.9 million dollar rate increase. This is the third rate increase requested by the Mississippi Power Company in the last three years. Due to advanced science and technology, I would think that the Mississippi Power Company would be able to lower utility rates rather than raise them."

Continuing, Allain said, "Since the consumers are not making any more money, they cannot afford to continue to pay more for their utilities each year. The utility companies are going to have to do something to control their costs so they can live within their budgets like the consumers have to."

Allain, who is already opposing the South Central Bell rate increase request and is in court against the Mississippi Power and Light Company, stated again that he was sorry that he would only be able to participate in these rate hearings in a very limited way since the legislature had cut the budget of the Consumer Protection Division of his office so severely that he was going to have to reduce his staff. Allain said, "It's tragic that the legislature has made it impossible for the Attorney General's Office to effectively represent the people of this state during a time when so many utilities are seeking such ridiculously high rate increases."

In conclusion Allain said, "The Mississippi Power Company has now joined with South Central Bell and reached out and touched everybody."

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE—Mobile Medic and Bay Fire Department personnel place Frank Malone of Gulfport in a Mobile Medic Ambulance Friday morning at the Hancock County Sheriff's Department offices on Court Street in Bay St. Louis. Sheriff Ronald Peterson Friday said Malone was being interrogated in an office when he apparently suffered a seizure and fell 'flat on his face'. Malone was one of three suspects arrested in connection with an armed robbery of a Firetower Road woman in January. (Staff photo by Steven J. Lizana).

Three armed robbery suspects arrested

By BRENT MACEY

Three additional suspects were arrested Thursday and Friday in connection with an armed robbery which occurred in January on Firetower Road in Hancock County.

Dayanan (Sam) D. Buchanan, 42, P.O. Box 649, Gulfport; Frank T. Malone, 38, of 1809 19th Avenue, Gulfport; and Dale J. Bissett, 41, of 211 Sunkist Road in Biloxi, are charged with armed robbery and held under $50,000 bond each.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson, Friday said the three suspects were arrested by investigators of the Mississippi Highway Patrol and the Sheriff's Department following an intense investigation by both departments into the January armed robbery.

The sheriff stated both Buchanan and Malone were arrested in their homes. Buchanan was arrested Thursday at 2 p.m. and Malone was arrested Friday at 2:25 p.m.

Bissett, who is a jeweler, was arrested at his business establishment Friday in Biloxi at approximately 5 p.m.

In the Jan. 16 incident, Virginia Guilbeau was walking from her car to her front door when she was struck numerous times from behind.

Peterson noted, "A substantial amount of jewelry, money and two guns were taken."

Marilyn Page, of Pascagoula has already been arrested in connection with the armed robbery.

"We believe Buchanan drove Page to the scene and waited on the roadway until the armed robbery was completed. We also allege that the armed robbery was masterminded by Malone," Peterson added.

"During the arrest of Malone, numerous guns, rifles and jewelry were confiscated. Further charges may be pending," the sheriff said.

Currently no jewelry confiscated has been identified as belonging to Guilbeau, Peterson said.

The case is still under investigation by Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner and Mississippi Highway Patrol Senior Investigator T. F. Naylor.

Echo receives five awards in state newspaper contest

The Sea Coast Echo won five awards at the Mississippi Press Association's 1982 Better Newspaper Contest where winners were announced Friday morning at the Biloxi Broadwater Beach Hotel.

Staff Photojournalist Wayne Ducomb Jr. received top honors for a feature photograph of a young boy selling punch on US-90 in Bay St. Louis in the summer heat.

Judges state, "Readers could almost feel the heat and fatigue in this photo of the young businessman slumped in his chair near the vacant highway."

"The first place award was unanimous choice by the judges" for a weekly newspaper with a circulation with more than 15,001.

In the same category, Staff Photojournalist Brent Macey was awarded third place for a photograph of North Bay Elementary School students frolicking inside a haunted house at the campus last Halloween.

In the community service category, The Sea Coast Echo newspaper received second place in competition with all other weekly newspapers in the state.

The entire Echo staff, including Ducomb, Macey, Editor and Publisher Ellis Cuevas, Managing Editor Edgar Perez and General Manager Randy Ponder, contributed articles, photographs and editorials on an underwater hole located some 1,500 feet offshore, Buccaneer State Park in Waveland.

The deep hole has caused some 25 drowning deaths in the past several years.

Judges note, "The paper provided excellent coverage of a dangerous situation in the community, but went far beyond that by contacting government officials from the president on down."

In the best news story category for weekly newspapers with a circulation exceeding 4,001, Cuevas received third place for his article on the capture of a James Billiot, a triple murder suspect who allegedly killed three relatives in the Leetown Community.

The judges note the article, "Was a good account of the search for and arrest of a triple murder suspect. Writer does a good job of highlighting the suspect's character."

In the best sports photo category for newspapers with a circulation exceeding 15,001, Ponder received a second place award.

White Cypress resident's alleged criminal activity told by Michigan detective

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A White Cypress Community resident now being held at the Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis allegedly may be linked to several murders in various areas of the nation; narcotics trafficking, an armed robbery and is a prime suspect in an attempted stolen car.

Detective Sgt. Richard Chartier of the Michigan State Police's office in East Lansing Thursday said Joseph W. Perry, 36, of Route 1, Box 334-C, Pass Christian is wanted in connection with a nighttime burglary of a Secretary of State's branch office in Birmingham where blank vehicle titles and a state seal were stolen.

Chartier said Perry and two associates were involved in the burglary and attempt to establish a link between Perry and the alleged murders. Chartier said the alleged murders were committed in various states and he is seeking information for the Michigan State Police.

He said the title forms and seal were recovered in the arrest of the two which quashed the ring.

Since 1977 Perry has moved to various areas of the country, Chartier reported.

Perry is considered dangerous by Michigan law enforcement officials because he apparently fled the state with a stolen handgun and automobile, the detective said.

The stolen vehicle was recovered in Texas, Chartier added.

The detective also revealed that law enforcement agencies nationwide are investigating Perry's possible involvement in narcotics smuggling, contract murders and drug trafficking-related killings.

"Information I have obtained from a witness who turned state's evidence says Perry was allegedly involved in narcotics deals," Chartier stated. "We also suspect Perry's involvement in several contract murders," he said.

The detective listed Perry's suspected involvement in a double homicide and robbery of a jewelry store, and two contract narcotics-related murders.

Chartier said based on information he has received that Perry was associated with individuals involved in a drug-related triple homicide in New Mexico.

"One individual apparently associated with Perry is an organized crime hit man," he stated.

"The only charge we've been able to support on evidence so far is the breaking, based on the information obtained from the witness turned state's evidence," Chartier stated.

After Perry's arrest, Chartier said, Michigan law enforcement officials issued a warrant for Perry's arrest on the Michigan charge of a hit of the Perry named felony, state and local officials issued warrants for Perry's arrest on the Michigan charge of a hit of the Perry named felony, state and local officials issued warrants for Perry's arrest on the Michigan charge of a hit of the Perry named

Longfellow wreck hospitalizes two

By WAYNE DUComb JR.
A Bay St. Louis woman and Gulfport man were hospitalized after a one-car accident on Longfellow Road Sunday, June 20, 1982.

Claudia Layne, 30, of 1000 Dunbar Ave. was reported in good condition after suffering a fractured shoulder, a hospital spokesman said recently.

Richard Cook, 34, of 1419 Pass Road in Gulfport was in fair condition with multiple internal injuries, the spokesman reported.

The accident occurred Sunday, June 20 as the vehicle, driven by Cook, was traveling west on Longfellow Road near Arnold Street.

Investigator Delbert Seay of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department said, based on an accident report filed by Bay St. Louis police, that the car was traveling at a high rate of speed, lost control, and moved into the ditch on the north side of the road.

The car struck a culvert at a driveway entrance, the rear wheels of the auto left the ground and the car flipped over striking a nearby telephone pole about six feet above the ground, Seay reported.

Seay said both occupants were apparently thrown from the car just before it landed upside down on the driveway.

"Cause of the accident is drinking and excessive speed," Seay stated.

Cook is charged with driving under the influence and reckless driving.

Suspects.....CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

Peterson noted Page was arrested when a plaster of paris mold of a footprint, made at the scene of the crime by sheriff's department investigators, was positively identified by the state crime lab as matching one of Page's shoes.

Page was arrested in Jefferson, Texas. She was later transferred to this county when a Hancock County Grand Jury handed down an indictment against the woman in April.

Although both Buchanan and Page are being held by officials, Malone had a seizure while being interrogated at the sheriff's department and fell flat on his face, Peterson said.

He was transported to Hancock General Hospital and later transported to another hospital for observation.

Investigators would not reveal which hospital Malone was transported to for fear other suspects still at large may attempt to break him out of the facility.

We have been hearing a lot of complaints about the lack of crabs this year by persons shrimping.

It seems that every time it is legal to take sponge crabs, there seems to be a shortage of crabs the next season.

One of these days those 'experts' are going to find out that sponge crabs are carrying eggs and should not be taken.

Fishermen tell us that sponge crabs usually have very little meat in them.

The Morning Edition of the Hancock County chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday, June 24 at 7:15 a.m. at The Landmark, 210 Main St., Bay St. Louis. It is the former location of the Homestead and has a new look as well as new management.

We hope many of you will try and attend this chamber function as we are sure Leo Kowal, Borg-Warner plant manager at Port Bienville, will have some interesting things to tell us.

The chamber will provide coffee and donuts for the occasion.

Summertime brings new health hazards

Winter is commonly the time for colds and flu, but summer also brings some hazards to life and limb.

The American Medical Association points out that some of these are obvious. Heat strokes and sun strokes occur in July and August, not in January and February.

Sunburn has hospitalized many a vacationer. Everyone should know that you can't rush a sun tan. Gradual exposure, beginning with a few minutes per day on each side, is the recommended approach.

But many of us forget to watch the clock and to take precautions against sunburn in the excitement of the first day at camp or at the seashore.

The bacteria that cause diarrhea multiply much faster in lukewarm foods, and it's important to keep cold foods in refrigeration and to keep hot foods hot.

Swimming is fine exercise and good for cooling off on a hot day. Those with sinus or ear troubles should be careful about swimming.

Swimmers should know that the water is safe from pollution. A clear mountain stream looks attractive. It also may be teeming with germs. There still are cases of typhoid and dysentery from drinking untreated water.

Campers or hikers can disinfect water by boiling or by commercial disinfectant tablets.

If there are horses or cows around, there is likely to be tetanus. Tetanus (lockjaw) is very serious. It can be prevented by injections of tetanus toxoid.

If your family hasn't had tetanus boosters recently, get your shots before going to the country.

Flies, roaches, mosquitoes and ticks are troublesome in the hot months.

Insecticides and screens usually can keep them under control indoors. Insect repellents can help ward them off outdoors.

In tick country, make a close examination of the entire body after disrobing to remove all ticks.

My Greatest Gift

When I was just a little girl he'd take me on his knee
And the greatest gift on earth I'll own, was the love he gave to me.
On sunny days we used to fish in the bays from the shore.
I'd soon grow weary, but he'd say, "Let's fish just a little more."

So then I'd run and play awhile,
And then he'd say, "It'll be dark soon, before we go let's take a ride down through the dark lagoon."

So we would head down the river toward the Mississippi Sound,
But when night started falling we would then be homeward bound.
And then before our bedtime as we worshipped on bedded knees,
He talked to the Greatest Fisherman and in faith he prayed for me.

We often fished in the Jordan River, or in the Gulf of Mexico,
Whenever he wanted to try his luck I was always ready to go.
Sometimes we fished in the Bayou Talls or in the lake nearby,
Wherever there was water his fishing luck he'd try.

Today I stand on the sands of time and dream by the Bay alone,
For the dearest man I'll ever know has made his way to God and Home.
Long ago he made a reservation with the Great Eternal One,
Now together they are waiting by the Great Eternal One.

I visualize his smile on that last day as he fished in Bayou La Comm,
When the Golden sun met him and took him to his home.
Yes, he fished in many waters and from all of them he caught the love,
But at last he placed his number by the One who rules the waves.

And still I know my daddy's love is caught in every wave,
For his love is very close to God and very close to me.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Biloxian reaches out to touch someone with 12-cent postcards

June 15, 1982
The Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Mr. Editor:

Please publish the following in your newspaper, as I believe this subject is of interest to the general public:
This is to protest the recent and drastic increase in the local service telephone rates.

Before the increase, my local service rate was $16. After the increase, my rate is $24.20.

This represents an increase of a little over 50 percent. This is too much. Therefore, I have written a letter this date to the chairman, Mississippi Public Service Commission requesting the commission give consideration for disapproval of this drastic increase in rates when this issue comes before the commission for review.

Before this increase in rates, I was able to afford myself the pleasure of a few long distance calls. Now, instead of calling, I will use 12-cent postcards for these calls.

This will somewhat offset the increase in my local service rates. I encourage others to consider using this, or some other, method, if they wish to reduce their phone bills.

NOTE: A copy of my letter to the chairman, Mississippi Public Service Commission is being furnished South Central Bell Telephone Company.

Thank you, Mr. Editor.
Sincerely,

Seniors risk life and limb crossing Old Spanish Trail at VCJ

Dear Mr. Editor,

I don't like to complain but I think the mayor and the council should do something about the traffic on Old Spanish Trail.

Last week one of our Senior Citizens almost got killed in front of the firehouse.

She is not the only one who walks across to go to Senior Citizen Center to eat or other things.

A sign should be put up saying 'Slow - Old People Crossing.'

I stay right across the street and those cars travel fast. Please, Mr. Mayor, do something before someone gets killed.

Top level foreign policy critics, domestic extravagance, expediency before principle plague US

Letters to the Editor

The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

Jeanne Kirkpatrick, US Ambassador to the UN, stated that US foreign policy was inept.

Then, after hearing of this, Alexander Haig, secretary of state, replied in kind, that our foreign policy was sometimes stupid.

With the US economy in shambles, the overseas situation getting perilous and dangerous, the USSR forging ahead in military and outer space strategic capabilities, I predict Toynbee's "times of troubles" ahead and a new dark ages.

Miracles might help, but first, get rid of Haig and Kirkpatrick, go austere in domestic policies, and immediately cease and desist flagrant expediences in all our actions, both home and abroad.

Motorist objects to dangerous turning practices at US-90 and Main Street

Letter to the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

Like most residents of the Bay-Waveland area it is necessary for me to travel Highway 90 daily.

I am concerned about the number of illegal turns made at the intersection of Highway 90 and Main Street.

Many times I have seen people run the red light in the turn lanes to cross in front of oncoming traffic.

However, what bothers me even more are those who when heading East pass the left turn lane and make a left turn across the Westbound turn lane and oncoming traffic into the Burger King lot.

On occasion I have seen the same thing done in reverse to get to the gas station.

This type of turn may save one a few seconds of time and an ounce of gas but I feel that it may one day cost someone a life.

A life is a high price to pay in order to avoid going a few extra feet to make a legal turn.

If the offenders do not have the common sense to make a proper turn, perhaps the city or Highway Department should see that both a "no turn on red" and a "no left turn" be placed at this intersection.

A sign may not stop someone from making an illegal turn but at least he would know that he was in clear violation of the law.

Dear Sir,

I was riding down Main Street Wednesday morning and was very impressed with the building construction at Coast Electric.

Being a member of the most Coast Electric, customers in Hancock County, I stopped to inquire about the construction site and what the new facility was to represent.

Workers on the site were fencing in what they thought was a parking lot. The contractor was a construction company from Jackson, Ms. with a home office in Texas.

Being a Coast Electric member and resident of Bay St. Louis, I question why local contractors weren't used.

In my opinion this is not only a bad business decision for Coast Electric but also for the local economy.

Two fencing contractors based in Bay St. Louis probably live and work in the local coastal area.

Wildland Firefighting
Mississippi County
Forester

Has the Mississippi Forestry Commission reverted to the old "bucket brigade" in suppression forest fires? Not exactly, the "brigade" is being replaced by Mississippi Army National Guard helicopters and the 2 gallon buckets are being replaced by both 250 and 2,000 gallon buckets.

In May 1982, officials from the Forest Protection Division of the Mississippi Forestry Commission, together with the Mississippi Army National Guard and the Alabama Army National Guard, participated in a training exercise at Birmingham, Alabama, using "Skycrane" helicopters and 2,000 gallon water buckets.

The polyurethane bucket is light-weight, collapsible, and features an electrically actuated dump gate. Training included practice in proper hook-up of the water bucket; take-off procedures and filling techniques; water delivery techniques and tactics on the fire, etc.

Upon returning to Mississippi, the Commission and Guard still needed to schedule additional training, practice flights, and arrange for use of water sources (such as lakes, farm ponds, rivers, etc.) for the filling of the buckets.

Water sources have now been secured in the Jackson, Meridian, and Camp Shelby areas. Practice flights have begun by the Guard at Jackson, using the Ross Barnett Reservoir. Additional training has been scheduled at Camp Shelby during the period June 13-25, 1982.

Forestry Commission Protection Foresters K. P. Burchfield and M. T. Parker from Wiggins will present a program to the Mississippi Army National Guard, 131st Aviation Battalion, on forest fire fighting techniques and radio communication with Commission personnel at a briefing session at Camp Shelby on June 13. Hands-on training for the Guard will take place during the following two weeks. Topics covered in this exercise will include: safety and the use of teamwork; map reconnaissance, and water bucket operations.

The training session will be utilizing the Guard's CH-54 "Skycrane" helicopter with a 2,000 gallon bucket on loan from the Alabama Forestry Commission. The smaller "Huey" helicopters will practice with a 250 gallon bucket belonging to the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

The training is compatible with requirements for Guard aviators to become proficient in cargo lift techniques and heavy loads.

Upon completion of the National Guard's training they will be ready to provide assistance during extreme forest fire emergency situations when called upon through official channels.

The Forestry Commission's forest fire suppression efforts will continue to rely primarily on their fireflow-equipped crawler tractors for routine firefighting activities.

ETV Brief

FARM TAXES

Farm land reappraisal for tax purposes is the subject of a panel discussion on "Farm-week '82" weekly series for Mississippi farm families at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 21, on Mississippi ETV.

According to market reports, farm families in Mississippi are being reappraised according to its value. Many farmers feel that the reappraisal is unfair because they are not being able to afford to farm any longer, he said. "We are not getting any more for our land," he said.

Also on the program will be a panel discussion on the value of farm land. The panel will discuss the value of farm land and the impact of reappraisal on the farm family. The panel will be moderated by the Mississippi Center for Educational Television and will be held at the ETV Center in Jackson.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Friday said Perry's bond was recently reduced at the request of his attorney, Henry J. Cook III of Bay St. Louis and a public defender, at a hearing in Gulfport in front of Place Two Circuit Court Judge Ruble Griffin.
Perry is fighting extradition, the sheriff added.
Peterson said another bond-reduction hearing is scheduled Monday, but the State of California may also file charges against Perry.
The sheriff reported a mug shot of Perry has been sent to that state for identification by witness to a crime possibly involving the White Cypress resident.

Peterson said Platon D. Petralos, 23, of 11672 Florida Blvd. was recently arrested by two Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics officers after his indictment in the January Hancock Grand Jury term.
"Petralos allegedly sold a substantial amount of quaalude tablets, a scheduled drug, to a bureau undercover agent in Hancock," Peterson stated.
"We also have a hold order on the subject for two counts in Harrison, where a bureau agent also allegedly bought some drugs in that county from Petralos," the sheriff said.
Peterson said Petralos was apprehended in Baton Rouge, waved extradition and was transported here by the bureau officers.

TV OPERA

"Summer and Smoke," Lee Holby's opera based on the Tennessee Williams play and performed by the Chicago Opera Theater, will be broadcast at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 23, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The story of "Summer and Smoke" revolves around the love between two young neighbors in turn-of-the-century Mississippi. Alma Winemiller, an elegant minister's daughter, is so repressed that she cannot admit the intensity of her passion, even to herself. The boy next door, energetic, restless John Buchanan Jr., eventually follows his father's medical profession. He reaches out to her several times, but she is too prim to respond and too cold to comfort him when he desperately needs her.

SPY TALE

In the concluding episode of "Oppenheimer" on "American Playhouse," it is 1953 and J. Robert Oppenheimer returns from a trip to Europe to learn that his security clearance has been revoked by President Eisenhower. He is confronted by the Atomic Energy Commission with a list of charges against him.

The program on the life of "the father of the atomic bomb" can be seen at 9 p.m., Tuesday, June 22, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

In damaging testimony during his security hearing, Oppenheimer is forced to admit that he had previously lied about his contacts with a former Soviet spy who turned out to be a double agent.

Rev. Louis Lohan of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Biloxi celebrated a Nuptial Mass and officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The main altar was flanked with arrangements of white gladioli, carnations, Fuji poms and baby's breath. Standing baskets of identical flowers and large Boston ferns decorated the sanctuary.

bride wore a traditional formal gown of white tulle with a Queen Anne neckline, fitted sleeves with calla points and full skirt with attached cathedral length train. Appliques of embroidered Alencon lace embellished with tiny seed pearls enhanced the bodice, sleeves and hemline of the gown. A Juliet cap of Alencon lace and seed pearls held a veil of bridal illusion bordered in lace.

She carried a cascade of white silk roses, stephanotis, lily-of-the-valley and English ivy interspersed with satin ribbon. Laurie Koch of Bay St. Louis attended the bride as maid of honor.

The attendants were identically attired in white two piece formal gowns featuring pin tucked bodices, stand-up collared in white lace and flared skirts. Cameo pins accented the Victorian necklines. They wore white hand crocheted gloves and carried old-fashioned bouquets of silk roses, phlox, violets, miniature carnations and Boston fern interspersed with lace-edged lavender ribbon.

Miss Ellen Kergosien of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a long dress of lavender print on white background, fashioned with full skirt and puffed sleeves. She carried a white wicker basket of silk flowers.

Andrew Lagarde of Bay St. Louis served the groom as best man.

Groomsmen were Robert Hand of Corpus Christi, Texas, brother of the groom and William Kergosien, Jeffrey Kergosien and Patrick Kergosien of Bay St. Louis, brothers of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's family home and surrounding garden. Floral arrangements in the bride's chosen colors decorated throughout.

Assisting at the reception were Tammy Hammond, Mike Borosky, Laura Hand, Kathy Treutel and Kathy Kergosien.

For traveling to the East Coast, the bride chose an ivory linen two piece suit with a mauve silk blouse and matching accessories. A silk rose corsage completed her ensemble.

Library Friends tell program reorganization

Friends of the Hancock County Library System as soon to receive a news letter informing them of plans and procedures to be followed by that organization beginning with the first fall meeting scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

Using information garnered from a telephone opinion poll, the planning committee announces the Docent Plan has been approved.

Mrs. Joe Pilet has been appointed coordinator of the change over from the parliamentary procedure system followed by the group in the past.

Mrs. Pilet said: "A committee of twelve docents will be appointed, each to be responsible for only one of the monthly meetings. Each docent will decide on the subject to be presented and will appoint committee members to work with her."

The topics will be varied to include several facets of our culture, Mrs. Pilet said, and added suggested program subjects include architecture, gem and minerals, fashion showing, choral and instrumental music, book reviews, introduction of local art and artists, lectures on antique furniture, brass, glass, china and silver, dolls and doll making, Christmas decorations and customs, nutrition and exercise, gardening, flower arranging, silk flower making, and various crafts.

"There will be no treasury reports given, nor will minutes of the previous meetings be read," Mrs. Pilet said, and added these things will be covered in news letters to be sent periodically to all paid members.

Following each program 15 or 20 minutes will be allowed for friendly and informal discussions, announcements, etc. During this time hostesses will serve tea, coffee or cold drinks, she said.

"It is sincerely hoped that docents will represent every area of Hancock County and suggestion boxes will be placed at the Klyn, Waveland and Bay St. Louis libraries," Mrs. Prima Wunnack, library director, said.

Names of volunteers should be placed in these boxes and also names of persons members would like to see invited to the meetings.

NORDA technicians develop new data collection system

Two instrument specialists at the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity (NORDA) have devised a unique system for acquiring and processing digital data from expendable ocean sensor probes.

The two, electronics engineer Ron Miles of Slidell, La., and electronics technician Bob Brown of Picayune, Miss., call their unit the Expendable Probe Data Acquisition System (EPDAS).

The EPDAS was developed in response to the Navy's continuing need to accumulate information about the ocean environment in which it operates. Since the collection of physical oceanographic data, for both research and survey purposes, is so highly dependent on the use of expendable probes, a system was needed that would be capable of collecting, processing and storing large amounts of data quickly, in a system that would also be based on available computer technology.

The need was formally defined by NORDA's Ocean Measurements Program Office, and the task was assigned to NORDA's Instrumentation Branch to resolve. Miles and Brown responded to the challenge, concentrating their efforts in a 12-month undertaking that resulted in a prototype of the EPDAS.

In order to test the system, the two men used it to support

Office of Naval Research (ONR) sponsored project, employing a P-3 Orion fixed-wing aircraft as the data collection platform.

The exercise was conducted off the East Coast of the United States in a project studying the meandering characteristics of the Gulf Stream.

Data were sampled at two-minute intervals for a period of about seven hours while the aircraft made several transects across the Gulf Stream.

The sensors being used were airborne-launched expendable bathythermograph probes (AXBTs).

The objectives of the trip were fully accomplished with the EPDAS interface sub-system, computer processing and data storage capabilities. The system was able to store and process data at a rate of 100 words per second.

The experience gained in the Gulf Stream operation led to some hardware and software changes which will make the EPDAS even more efficient for future use in its airborne configuration.

The experience also provided a firm foundation for the development of similar digital systems now being designed by NORDA for Birdseye and Seascan aircraft of the Naval Oceanographic Office.

PRC trustees approve renovation projects

Pearl River College's Board of Trustees during its regular May meeting approved at least a half dozen summer projects.

The PRC Board also approved the April Claim Docket and one new school policy.

According to Dr. Marvin R. White, PRC's president, the school will advertise for bids to repair the roof of the Shivers Gym, buy a reel mower, repair campus streets, and brick part of the PRC cafeteria.

Work will immediately start on repairing the bathrooms in Pearl River Hall, painting the light poles at the Dobie Holden Stadium, and general painting and cleaning of all PRC buildings.

The PRC Board also agreed to put up a matching $8,000 for the renovation of the PRC Auto Mechanics Building at the Forrest County Center in Hattiesburg.

Dr. White also reported that the building project going on at the Poplarville campus is ahead of schedule. Additional renovations are being made to the PRC student center, cafeteria and Shivers Gym.

Progress payments of $74,544 were approved to contractor Carter's for the $1,350 to architect Fred Wagner of Bay St. Louis.

Dr. White also told the board that the ACT Scholarships, which the college provides for high school seniors were paying off. White said he had addressed the Board of Supervisors of Jefferson Davis, Marion and Pearl River Counties and had received a favorable response from the local governing boards.

The PRC Board approved a school policy which requires all staff employees to have a signed contract on file in the PRC Business Office.

The April Claim Docket for $50,500 was also approved.

Parish News

Our Alumni are sponsoring a softball tournament today at Commagere Park to benefit our Parish. Come out and enjoy yourselves!

Our choirs are sponsoring a bake sale after 9 a.m. Mass today to benefit their candidate for Miss St. Rose, Kiara Ishem.

Next Saturday Margaret Hicks is sponsoring a dinner (Chitterlings-meat balls and Spaghetti) in our cafeteria, 11:30 a.m. - 5 p.m., to benefit her daughter, Petra, as a candidate for Miss St. Rose. Donation is $3. A card party will follow, 7 - 10 p.m. - Free admission.

Eight parishioners have already turned in their raffle ticket money. Members of the parish council will be calling you to see if you would like them to pick up your money at your home. Remember, a successful raffle equals a successful fair! Besides, you might find yourself $500 richer for it!

Evelyn Curry is willing to make as much candy for the Fair as ingredients are donated - pecans, sugar, milk, etc. You may bring these donations to her home or to the rectory. Carmen Montgomery asks that any cakes for her fair booth be brought to her home or to the rectory.

Due to increase of enrollment the four classrooms on St. Rose campus will be used for double classes of grades 1 and 2. The 3rd grade will be moved to Our Lady of the Gulf campus this year. Grades 4-6 will be departmentalized in math, English, reading, social studies and science. A physical fitness program will be planned. An enrichment program for gifted students will be initiated in reading, English and spelling. Special education will be continued to students' needs in all grades. There will be two 6th grade classes and possibly also for grades 3-5. Also there will be a library and Art and Music room. Sister Virginia, our new principal, will speak at our 9 a.m. Mass next Sunday.

The junior and senior high will have separate facilities. Their curriculum will be broadened to include more elective courses. Our parish council elected the following new members to Bay Catholic School Board: Gerry Lang (3 years), Alvina Nichols (2 years) and Joan Thomas (1 year). The Hancock County branch NAACP will meet this Monday in our cafeteria at 7 a.m. The Little People Choir will practice on Tuesday, 5:30 p.m.; Gospel Choir, 6:30 p.m. Next Sunday the second collection will be for our Holy Father, Pope John Paul II, to help with his worldwide charities. Special envelopes are available at bulletin table.

The answer is to stop worrying about what people think of you and to start developing a healthy, loving attitude toward them. If you make others feel liked and respected, they in turn will reflect that attitude back to you.

We are sending you our booklet Love Life and Life Will Love You Back, which is free to any reader of this column. Write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

There's An Answer

HAS NO FRIENDS

Q. I'm not a very likeable person. It seems people just don't want to make friends with me. And when I do, they just want me to do something for them. Afterwards they just ignore me. I just don't seem to have friends just for being myself.

What's wrong with me? I have been hurt by so many. I'm getting so that I'm afraid to make any more friends.

A. I'm sorry to have to tell you that in emphasizing that you are not a likeable person you are projecting a negative attitude, and the people around you pick up the message.

The answer is to stop worrying about what people think of you and to start developing a healthy, loving attitude toward them. If you make others feel liked and respected, they in turn will reflect that attitude back to you.

We are sending you our booklet Love Life and Life Will Love You Back, which is free to any reader of this column. Write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

SHOULD SHE CONFESS?

Q. I have been involved in an affair with a married man. I fear God cannot forgive my sin unless I confess my unfaithfulness to my husband. The other person involved does not feel that we should tell our spouses. He feels that the truth, if known, would injure innocent people, particularly our children. What should I do?

A. You entered into this illicit, sinful relationship with no serious thought of consequences. Now it appears that you want to confess to your husband in an effort to bring relief from your guilt feeling. If that is, you want an innocent person to help you then the person you have caused.

Telling your husband would indeed cause needless suffering. There are four things to do: 1. Stop the affair. 2. Have the courage to face your own sin and suffer its consequences. 3. Confess to God. 4. Humbly seek and accept God's forgiveness. 5. Reconcile yourself and change more.

If there is something you would like to ask, Dr. and Mrs. Peales write to them at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Love your enemies. Wish the best for those who wish you ill. Do good to those who hate you. Play for those who take advantage of you and persecute you.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." — John 10:10

By Shawn Murphy,
MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

Stress is one of the greatest killers in American society today. Everyone faces stress to some degree or another. It probably has more to do with the difference in mortality ages of men and women than any other single factor.

And interestingly enough as women assume more stress-filled roles in today's society the average age difference in death rates between males and females is narrowing.

Marital separation, business ventures, changes in location, pregnancy, work responsibilities, poor health, outstanding debts are a minute cross section of stress-related situations.

Even dieting and vacations can increase tension and be the source of stress. It would seem that stress is almost as much a part of life as eating and sleeping.

Is it possible to live in our fast-moving, changing society and be free from anxiety and worry? The answer must be yes, for God Himself commands us to "be anxious in nothing" (Philippians 4: 6). God never asks us to do anything without making the way clear for its accomplishment.

The apostle Paul provides us with some specific steps to help us deal with any thing or situation which would tend to frustrate us and produce anxiety.

He writes, "Rejoice in the Lord always. I will say it again: Rejoice. Let your gentleness be evident to all. The Lord is near. Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. Finally brothers, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable - if anything is excellent or praiseworthy - think about such things. Whatever you have learned or received or heard from me, or seen in me - put it into practice. And the God of peace will be with you" (Philippians 4: 4-9).

We might call this section of scripture "God's Cure for Anxiety." And according to Paul, it is a four-step process. Step one is praise. He says "rejoice always." No matter what the situation God's command is to praise God. He doesn't say our rejoicing should be in our circumstance but rather "in the Lord." Rejoicing is not necessarily feeling joyful but rather it is an act of the will to praise Him because we recognize His control of the situation. Step two is prayer. Paul's command is that we redirect our words. Instead of worrying, we are to pray. His promise is that peace will be given to guard our hearts and our thoughts.

Step three is ponder. The third step is to refocus our thoughts. We are to think kind thoughts that we live to dwell on. Paul says when we rechannel our thoughts, it will prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God.

Step four is practice. The final step is the redirection of our actions. Paul says that we are to do those things that we have learned or seen mirrored in the lives of other Christians (vs. 9). His promise is that the God of peace will be with you. Now what is it that is troubling you so much? Let's heed the words of Paul 2nd: praise, pray, ponder, practice. Isaiah said, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee" (Isaiah 26: 3). That sounds like 'abundant life' to me!

Pearlington Branch

THE MORMONS

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints

Talmage Spiers of the High Council of the Hattiesburg Mississippi Stake of the church discussed "Repentance" at the Pearlington Branch's June 13 regularly scheduled sacrament meeting.

Spiers said that in our pre-earth life each of us dwelt as spirits in the presence of our Heavenly Father.

He stated that we were among the faithful and were given the right to be here today to prove ourselves worthy of exaltation.

"No unclean thing can enter into the kingdom of God," Spiers quoted from the scriptures.

He then added, "Christ, through his perfect light, is the way for us to obtain eternal life. The body is weak but the spirit is strong. If we will heed the promptings of the spirit, we will shun evil and we will live the righteous life. But, the Lord knew we would have sin; therefore, He provided a way for us, through the principle of repentance, to be able to gain forgiveness and to go back into his presence."

The fourth Article of Faith of the Mormon Church states: "We believe that the principles and ordinances of the Gospel are: first, Faith in Jesus Christ, second, Repentance, third, Baptism by immersion in water for the remission of sins, fourth, the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost." Spiers stated that the first principle of the Gospel is Faith. "Repentance involves a change of mind and a change of having disobeyed God, that prompts one to completely abandon his sins and faults voluntarily and replace them with truth and righteousness." "But," he said, "this must be more than a mere verbal acknowledgment of our wrong doing or fault. We have to show by our actions that we are changing from the wrong side right."

To conclude his remarks, Spiers bore testimony to the fact that the Lord had appeared to him and that he was a true prophet of God. He stated that he had seen the Lord and that he was a true prophet of God. He stated that he had seen the Lord and that he was a true prophet of God.

and around the McNeill area all of the faithful have been a Mormon since the first time. He is a grandson of James W. Gill and Alice Living Gill, the first converts to the Mormon Church in that area.

He and his wife have four children and 14 grandchildren.

In service to his church, Spiers has served in the district council in the Hattiesburg Stake in the Mississippi Delta and in the New Orleans Stake in the New Orleans area. He has also served in the Hattiesburg Stake in the Hattiesburg area.

POLITICS SIMPLIFIED!
Take away the trappings that modern society seemingly consists on and today's politics should be relatively simple—and inexpensive.

But you know how it's gotten. National campaigns and party conventions now nearly put a Barnum & Bailey Circus to shame with multimillion dollar blazes, costumes, posters, buttons, silly hats, and selected budgets many times greater than that allotted to the winners of the contests.

The fiercest spender in political campaigns during 1960 was the U.S. Senator from the state of Mississippi, James O. Eastland, who pumped down over $250,000 through political action committees to finance the campaign of his opponent, the late Sen. James H. Eastland.

Among the labor organizations paying their political dues (many groups have no dues among the 100 labor organizations—United Auto Workers—contribute to the campaign of political candidates by putting $100,000 in the campaign fund. Even the International Ladies' Guild contributed $100,000 to the campaign fund of the Democratic Party.

The leading commercial campaign organizations were the Women's World Forum, which had a budget of $100,000, and the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, which had a budget of $100,000.

To learn for sure that the money is being spent on the campaign, the Federal Election Commission has been set up to monitor the campaign funds.

The commission will be set up by July 1, 1962, and will be headed by a five-member board of directors.

tensive campaign this summer to get out the Mississippi vote. As usual, the organization will raise no funds for the political candidates unless, as a spin-off of the get-out-the-vote campaign, individuals provide financial support of their personal choice of candidates.

The Farm Bureau campaign will be non-partisan, and will deal with issues rather than personalities. This is a simplification of politics in anybody's book.

This farm organization's grassroots campaign will be organized by county and parish to urge all voters to register and then turn out on election day to stand up and be counted with no more cost than their transportation to the polls. In fact, the local committee by November 2 plan to help provide transportation to the polls if necessary.

The main need for better political participation of the farmer is the belief that the farmer's vote is the most important vote in the country.

The University of Southern Mississippi and the National Association of Space Administration are co-sponsoring a workshop in aerospace education at NSTL.

The workshop will be held July 1-4 at NASA's Space Research Center.

hoop-la. They advocate a major effort to simply acquaint voters with issues at stake in the elective process.

The Farm Bureau will try to get across a message to the general public that millions of dollars are wasted in political contests, and that elections are more often lost than won. Some political observers sagely point out that mistakes that lose make have more profound effect on the outcome of the election than does the performance of the winners.

A pathetic political campaign conclusion has it that the segment of the population that is interested in the political process actually decides the outcome of most elections.

And that is why in today's economy, especially, it is so important that politicians be built among organizations to help simplify this painful election process.

The Farm Bureau is not beyond the ability of campaign workers and their supporters to pay the bills.

The workshop will be held July 1-4 at NASA's Space Research Center.
